Consignment Terms & Agreement

1. We accept items for consignment anytime Monday thru Friday between 11am – 5pm. There are many factors we need to consider when accepting pieces for consignment, including current stock, floor space, season, customer demand, etc. Due to this we may choose to decline pieces. You may drop items off to be sorted through, but it is your responsibility to contact us to check on the status of your items. Unaccepted pieces will be returned or donated, your choice.
2. Items to be consigned must be in excellent condition. Clothing should be laundered and free of rips, stains, pulls, excessive wear, broken zippers or buttons, etc. Shoes and handbags need to be free of excessive wear, stains or scuffs, broken hardware, and must be accompanied with all laces and straps.
3. Prices will be set by staff and will be based on original pricing, brand, season, condition, etc. Sales and special discounts will apply to consigned items. Consignor will receive 50% of the selling price issued as a store credit once an item has sold. The store credit never expires and can be used at anytime and on any merchandise in the store. Please note that monies will not be given for any consigned pieces.
4. The consignment period is 90 days which begins when items are dropped off. It is the responsibility of the consignor to keep track of their account and all dates pertaining to consigned pieces. Please note merchandise may be donated if left after the 90 day term expires.
5. We try very hard to keep a close watch on the store and all the merchandise in it. Unfortunately, accidents do happen and thefts do occur. We are not responsible for damage or loss due to the actions of others.
